

Swoccho and Shourjo's Big Backyard Adventure

By Shuddho IBN Shamim

Swoccho, just three, and Shourjo, seven and bold, ~~story to unfold~~
were playing outside, a
Their backyard, so green, a land to explore.

Shourjo and has to fight out drop the spark,
and it does it beafter doing too liver.
Swoccho, who have their place.

Shourjo declared, "Let's find a treasure, Swoccho, it's true!
make adventures for me and for you!"
A map we will

Shourjo pointed the uncieny 'X' tine these werd ~~sas~~ If the nivs sparkler, and Swoccho leanimed 'Swoccho' to aetire, oak,s and eager.

They drew a big X near the old oak tree, you'll see!"
That's where the treasure is,
Off they went, on a journey so grand.

First, through the tall grass, a jungle they made,
~~they were never afraid,~~
When roaring sounds loud,
Swoccho stomped on the ground!

Next, over the rocks, a mountain so high,
reaching for the sky,
they climbed very carefully,
Shourjo helped Swoccho climb the rocks.

Then, through a puddle, a deep, muddy sea,
Spish, splash, they laughed with
Their boots made fun sounds.

At last, by the oak, they started to dig,
with tiny toy shovels, working so
"X" marked the spot.

What did they find, beneath the ground so deep?

~~secrets to keep!~~
A treasure chest hidden,
Full of toys and candy.

But best of all, a note from their mom,
little chum,
I knew you'd find it, my brave
I am proud of you both."

Swoccho and Shourjo, happy and bright,
always a delight,
knew that backyard adventures are Working together, they found real fun.

"Even ordinary places can hold extraordinary adventures when you use your imagination."

The End